REPTI SHELTER™

Zoo Med's ReptiShelter 3-in-1 Cave is a unique, naturalistic hide cave that also functions as a shedding and egg-laying chamber. Many reptiles and amphibians suffer from a lack of humidity in captivity, which can lead to shedding and respiratory disorders. The ReptiShelter 3-in-1 Cave corrects this problem by creating a humid "microclimate" within the terrarium, similar to what they would find in burrows, or under rocks and logs in nature. By adding the appropriate substrate to the 3-in-1 Cave tray, you can provide the ideal environment for shedding and egg-laying. Providing a proper nesting site can help prevent against egg-binding, a dangerous condition in which the reptile is unable to lay her eggs.

THE ULTIMATE UV METER

ZOO MED'S DIGITAL UV INDEX RADIOMETER is an easy to use meter for measuring UVB lamps and the sun.

HOW IS THE UV INDEX METER DIFFERENT FROM STANDARD UVB METERS?

Standard UVB meters measure total UVB and are useful for finding out if a lamp is emitting UVB, and also for tracking the decay in UVB over time. Readings from standard UVB meters can be confusing and misleading, especially when trying to make comparisons between natural sunlight levels and UVB lamps.

The UV Index was developed by the World Health Organization as a tool for evaluating human risk of UV exposure outdoors. It is a measure of the UV radiation from sunlight that contributes to vitamin D synthesis, as well as skin and eye damage. It is NOT simply a measure of total UVB. Since the UV Index meter only "sees" the wavelengths that contribute to vitamin D synthesis, as well as eye/skin damage, it can be used for the following:

- To determine if a UVB lamp is safe for use with animals.
- To determine the appropriate distance from the UVB lamp to the basking site.
- To make meaningful comparisons between different types and brands of lamps, and between lamps and the sun.

CHOOSING THE CORRECT LAMP

ZOO MED'S REPTILE LIGHTING SELECTION GUIDE

What Is UVB?

UVB is part of the sun's natural light spectrum. Most reptiles require exposure to UVB to produce vitamin D3, which is essential in order for them to use the calcium from their diet. The sun provides UVB in nature, however, in your home you will need to provide UVB by using specialty lighting designed for reptiles.

What is the UV Index (UVI)?

The UV Index (UVI) is a unitless measure of UV radiation. In this Index, the wavelengths measured are those that contribute most to a reptile's ability to manufacture their own vitamin D3. This is important because not all UVB wavelengths are equal in their ability to promote vitamin D synthesis.

What are Ferguson Zones?

Dr. Ferguson, a renowned herpetologist and researcher, observed the daytime activities of many different reptile species and recorded the UV Index they were found in. Over time and with the contributions of many other dedicated researchers, these observations and recordings have been used to create the "Ferguson Zones" we use today.

What Zone Should My Animal Have?

Every habitat should provide a photo gradient with zones that go all the way down to 0 UVI, which allows animals to photo-regulate, or control their exposure to UVB. The upper zone limit should be based on your animal's unique natural basking behavior.

How to use this chart:

- 1- Determine what zone best describes your pet.
- 2- Consider the size of your enclosure. These measurements should be taken from the face of the lamp to the basking site.
- 3- Choose a lamp that can provide the correct zone at your pet's basking site.
- 4- Remember to make sure that there is a gradient all the way down to "0" allowing your pet to retreat from the light.
- 5- Keep in mind that some reflectors may increase a lamp's output and screens may reduce the UVB that reaches your pet. To know precise UVI, you can use a UV Index Meter (ST-7).

REPTILE LAMP CHART

Reptile health is dependent on an interconnected cycle of a varied diet, proper heat regimens and supplementation of calcium and vitamins. There are many lamps available for reptiles in your local pet store. Some lamps produce UVB, some produce UVA, and some produce heat. Choosing the correct reptile lamp is an important part of setting up a habitat. Different lamps have different properties and features. Use this chart to find the best lamp or combination of lamps for you and your pet. Not all lamps are created equal, so go with a company you can trust: ZOO MED!

HEAT: Heat bulbs help maintain optimum terrarium temperatures. Use low heat for temperate species, medium heat for tropical species & high heat for desert species.

Basking bulbs provide a focused beam of heat which is essential for many reptile species.

UVB is essential to the health of many reptiles and helps them maintain strong bones.

UVA helps reptiles to see accurately and can promote natural behaviors.

Night time viewing bulbs provide enough light for people to watch their pets at night, but do not disturb the day and night cycle of the animal.

Visible Daylight is important to establish a natural light cycle for the animal and should be used for 12-14 hours a day.

A Splashproof bulb is ideal for an aquatic habitat where animals, such as turtles, may splash it.

HEATING & LIGHTING

Basking bulbs provide a focused beam of heat which is essential for many reptile species.

UVB is essential to the health of many reptiles and helps them maintain strong bones.

UVA helps reptiles to see accurately and can promote natural behaviors.

Night time viewing bulbs provide enough light for people to watch their pets at night, but do not disturb the day and night cycle of the animal.

Visible Daylight is important to establish a natural light cycle for the animal and should be used for 12-14 hours a day.

A Splashproof bulb is ideal for an aquatic habitat where animals, such as turtles, may splash it.

For most aquatic turtles, we recommend either a bare bottom tank or Zoo Med's River Pebbles which are large in size to prevent accidental ingestion. For Softshell Turtles, use Zoo Med's ReptiSand® to simulate soft river bottoms. Other aquarium substrates, such as gravel, may be ingested by turtles leading to impaction and may also be abrasive, leading to sores on softshell species.

MEDICATIONS & CLEANERS

REPTI CALCIUM® AND REPTIVITE™:

Balanced calcium and multi-vitamin supplementation for all reptiles and amphibians. Offer REPTI CALCIUM® and REPTIVITE™ in alternate feedings as directed. Proper nutrition for reptiles and amphibians is dependent on many variables. Exposure to UVB helps animals produce Vitamin D₃ in their skin, while some animals obtain vitamin D₃ from their diet. Either way, vitamin D₃ is responsible for utilizing calcium within the diet. UVB, Vitamin D₃, heat, calcium and diet work together and are dependent on each other for balanced nutrition.

There is no prescribed rule for which animals need additional D₃, but a little research can help guide keepers in the right direction. For more information on UVB, Vitamin D₃ and calcium, please visit www.zoomed.com.

General Recommendations:

Recommended Use: With D₃

- Diurnal species housed indoors (Bearded Dragons, Chameleons, turtles and tortoises).
- Can be offered occasionally to nocturnal animals.

Recommended Use: Without D₃

- Animals housed outdoors with direct exposure to sunlight for 10 hrs/day or more (i.e. Chameleons and tortoises housed outdoors).
- Reptiles that eat whole vertebrate prey (eg. mice).

TO READ MORE ABOUT VITAMIN D₃, UVB, UVA LIGHTING AND REPTILES, PLEASE VISIT:

www.zoomed.eu

Zoo Med's REPTI CALCIUM® With or Without Vitamin D₃ is a phosphorus-free calcium supplement for reptiles and amphibians. We use only Precipitated Calcium Carbonate which is white in color and is essentially lead free. Impurities in other sources of calcium carbonate (e.g. Oyster Shell Calcium) cause the supplement to appear gray. With REPTI CALCIUM®, you can take comfort in knowing that your reptiles are getting a highly bioavailable source of calcium carbonate that is free of harmful impurities.

ZOO MED'S RECOMMENDED SUBSTRATE COMBINATIONS

FOREST GROUND COVER

Eco Earth® can be added to either ReptiBark® or FOREST FLOOR™ to add texture and moisture holding properties. These blends create a realistic ground cover that retains humidity and allows animals to retreat under the top layers of substrate.

HUMID BURROWS

Add water holding properties to EXCAVATOR® by adding Eco Earth®. This combo is also a preferred nesting substrate for Uromastyx and other desert burrowing species.

TROPICAL SAND (LOAM-TYPE)

Eco Earth® and REPTISAND® or DRAGON SAND™ are a perfect tropical combination. Eco Earth® will help retain humidity, while REPTISAND® helps create texture that will hold shape for burrowing.

ODOR ABSORBING

ReptiFresh® can be added to other substrates to add odor-absorbing properties. Add ReptiFresh® to EXCAVATOR® or REPTISAND® or DRAGON SAND™ for desert terrariums. Add ReptiFresh® to Eco Earth® for tropical terrariums.

ZOO MED'S NESTING SUBSTRATE COMBO

A combination of Zoo Med's Eco Earth®, FOREST FLOOR™, and REPTISAND® or DRAGON SAND™ makes the perfect nesting substrate for many species. This substrate combo holds moisture, holds shape, and is a very natural consistency for nest digging.

We use this combination at Zoo Med for all our land tortoise, aquatic turtle, and lizard breeding nesting areas!

SUBSTRATE TOPPERS:

Add any of these substrate toppers to your terrarium to help retain humidity and create a natural looking environment for tropical species. Mosses can be added to burrows and/or shelters of desert terrariums to create a humid retreat similar to that found in nature.

AQUARIUM PRODUCTS

AQUA COOL

Aquarium Cooling Fan

- Low voltage (12 V) for maximum safety when used near a wet environment.
- Better than overhead fans: Side-mounted fan assembly to minimize water splash on the motor and to prevent accidental immersion.
- Multi directional discharge nozzle for precise air flow focus.
- Fully adjustable, wide discharge nozzle for maximum cooling due to increased air/water contact.

Cools aquarium by one of the following methods:

- Direct the nozzle upwards toward the aquarium lamp fixture to dissipate some of the radiant heat generated by your aquarium lamps.
- Direct the nozzle so that air flows over the surface of the water. This will reduce the water temperature through increased evaporative cooling.
